

Little did I know how much my life would change when after I first recorded on the Gaither label and then traveled with the Trio, that I would also be invited to be one of the Homecoming Friends! The videos have certainly helped the artists to connect with one another but Homecoming Magazine has connected the Homecoming Friends with our fans and the worldwide community!

I am always so excited to receive my copy! I begin reading at the front and read every article and feature (including the advertisements!) right to the last page! The interviews are always heartwarming as well as the articles about my friends, the artists—their personal stories, insights into their private lives, blessings and healings they have experienced have touched me deeply. I love it when my friend Sue Buchanan mentions me on her page! And it was great to be featured in “Getting to Know You” for the September/October 2010 issue.

I am so happy that you had the vision for such a magazine as Homecoming and my prayer is that it will be around for a long time! I love you!
